About the book . . .

With an emphasis on World War II military facts, Doug James explores warfare throughout the history of mankind. Did you know that tattooing became a naval fashion in the 1700s, or that Dr. Mary Walker was the only woman to receive a Congressional Medal of Honor during the Civil War, or that the microwave oven was a by-product of a World War II invention? Military Trivia is filled with fascinating tidbits that reveal the ironies and brutal realities of man's experience during wartime.

About the author . . .

Doug James lives in Mobile, Alabama, and holds degrees from the University of North Alabama and Walden Universities. He served as a Field Medical Corpsman in the U.S. Navy and is an adjunct professor of communication at Spring Hill College and the Aviation School of Mobile. James is the author of Walter Cronkite, His Life and Times and two historical novels: Billy Benson and Flights of Angels.
